

KARENA J. EIDUM

Associate

Karena Eidum is a corporate associate in Hancock Daniel's Richmond office. Karena's diligence and detail-oriented manner enable her to advise clients on a broad range of transactional, regulatory, and compliance matters. "Understanding that now, more than ever, healthcare is an area where clients need to be able and prepared to adapt to the ever-changing statutory and regulatory schemes, I am excited by the opportunity to help clients navigate and succeed in an invaluable field that touches everyone's lives."

Karena received her law degree from the University of Richmond School of Law, where she was an Articles Editor for the University of Richmond Law Review. During law school, Karena began her career at Hancock Daniel as a summer associate. She subsequently returned to the firm after serving as a judicial law clerk for the Honorable Lynn S. Brice in Virginia's Twelfth Judicial Circuit and serving as counsel for a major insurance company.

Practice Areas

ACOs and CINs
Clinical Research
Compliance
Cybersecurity
Fraud & Abuse
Governance
Healthcare Innovation and
New Product Development
IT Procurement & Licensing
Mergers, Acquisitions &
Transactions
Physician Services
Technology

Licensure

District of Columbia
Virginia

Academic Credentials

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, B.A.
University of Richmond School of Law, J.D.