

CHLOE WARREN

Associate

Chloe is an associate at Hancock Daniel, where she advises clients on corporate transactions and regulatory compliance matters. She supports clients at the cross-section of business and legal issues, such as reimbursement, business model development and growth, and data use and protection. "Whether it be navigating Federal or State regulations, I am eager to help clients achieve short and long-term goals."

Prior to law school, Chloe worked at a large healthcare research, technology, and consulting firm and obtained a master's degree in public health from Columbia University. She then went to law school to deepen her understanding of healthcare law. Chloe takes a holistic, systems-based approach to her work, and cares deeply about expanding access to and quality of care for the patients that healthcare entities serve.

Practice Areas

Claims Management
Compliance
Corporate Governance
Cybersecurity
Electronic Health Records
Fraud & Abuse
Healthcare Investigations & Enforcement Actions
HIPAA/Privacy & Security
Licensure, Certification and Enrollment
Mergers & Acquisitions
Physician Services
Reimbursement
Risk Management
Tax-Exempt Status
Telemedicine

Licensure

Illinois

Academic Credentials

Boston University, B.A.
Columbia University
Mailman School of Public Health, MPH
Loyola University of Chicago
School of Law, J.D.